The calling of a meeting set for the latter par of this month by President Harry Pulliam of he National League gives much room for hought. The chances are that the development at this meeting will be of a nature to surprise the baseful public. Pulliam and the Nationa League magnates who stand back of him ma the deliberations of the august body.

Harry Pulliam, the National League's president, is not the weaking that some of the American League partisans paint him. Whether his move in playing Plavis was a mistake or not remains to be seen. More than likely Pullian awarded Davis's services to the New York club with the sede end in view of getting a line on the American League's lighting strength. If this was his intention be certainly drew the Infant holy out from under cover perfectly, and has a direct line on their flighting strength. At that, it would not surprise the writer to see the National League strike the first blow in the Impending battle after the meeting by a raid on the American League players. With the high salaries prevailing in the American League, the owners of clube in that organization have had their finances drained to such an extent that they will hardly be able to make a prolonged struggle.

"If the Cincinnati Cub has been recorded and defeate of the feelings of the New York Changaid Garry Hermann recently, "Ed Dalehanty, the dead star of the Washington term, might be alive to-day and probably would be out on the field with the Reds. Within the last six weeks we were notified that it might be to our advantage to negotiate with the Senators' management for the services of Delehanty. The triorment for the services of Delehanty. SAYS WAR TALK IS NONSENSE. Ran Johnson Voices Opinion That National League Cannot Stand Another Quarrel. Washington, July 17 .- "This talk of a wat is all nonsense. There will be no war for the very good reason that the National League has not the money to stand it," said Ban Johnson, the President of the American League, while watching the game between the Athletics and Chicago at Cclumbia Ball Park.

"It is all idle talk," the President said.

"The National League can't afford to invite another quarrel and particularly the Brooklyn Club, which is reported to be at xlous for a renewal of the war. John T. Erush seems to be the only magnate who craves trouble, and I find it hard to believe that his assistants will permit themselves to be drawn into another costly struggle merely to accommodate him."

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health.

ous disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force,

It is a season of uncertainty in the manufaccharges in court by turning State's evidence, will be followed by additional indictments by the Grand Jury in this city. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, the "sleuth" of the postal investigation, and Inspector Cochran both affirmed the report to-day that there will be important returns before the postal scandal

George W. Beavers's indictment is the resuit of direct orders conveyed by President Roosevelt to the Post-Office officials to let no man escape just retribution. This applied especially to Beavers, who has been in New York and who was known to be anxious to be called on for evidence.

He claimed to have in his possession important proof of irregularities in various divisions and also of the irregularities traced to the New York City Post Office and the "premotion syncicate," which, it is asserted, would involve some of the leading officials in the postal service both here and in New York. Now Beavers will nave an opportunity to explain all this.

A beach warrant was issued by Judge Thomas in the United States Circuit Court. Brooklyn, to-day, for the arrest of Beavers on an indictment found by the Federal Grand Jury, which charges him with accepting a bribe of 860.

It is understood that payments were traced back to the purchase by the Government of the Brandt-Dent Cash Registering Machine Company. The Post-Office Inspectors found that Beavers had a large account in the Nassau Trust Company, in Brooklyn, and are said to have discovered that checks deposited there had been given by ex-Congressman Driggs. The warrant has not yet been served, and it was rumored that Mr. Beavers could not be found.

It was stated that he would have until Monder to mored that Mr. Beavers could not be found.

It was stated that he would have until Monday to present himself, and that an arrangement had been made with his attorneys to enter a piea for him at that time. The evidence upon the basis of which the case was presented before the Brooklyn Grand Jury was gathered mainly in this city. It is understood here that the indictment returned against "John Doe, when the district Grand Jury returned indictments, including Machen, was intended to conceal probable action against Beavers. The Grand Jury of the District of Columbia adjourned to-day, after a brief session, until Monday, in order to allow Mr. Bristow and Inspector Cochran to prepare additional testimony for the return of at least three new indictments next week.

There were numerous mysterious conference and of at least three new indictments next week.

There were numerous mysterious conferences to-day at the department, and it is understood that a new clew has been unearthed which will lead to the discovery of systematic frauds in the divisions where large contracts have been awarded under conditions which have excited suspicion.

The fact is that Chief Inspector Cochran still has his entire force of Inspectors employed in following up evidence in the postal scandal and that much material is still to be sifted.

Although the Paul Herman contract for the supply of money-order blanks has been held up on account of the representations made that Mr. Herman could not fill the conditions there is no doubt that the conracts will finally be awarded to the Rutherford bidder.

CHINESE REFORMERS ARRIVE IN CITY.

Officers of Empire Association Entertained at Banquet by Local Celestials.

TOURING THE UNITED STATES.

Object of Organization, Which Dowager Empress Suppressed, Is to Secure Constitutional Form of Government.

Long Kai Cheu, vice president of the Chinese Empire Reform Association, arrived in St. Louis last night, and is stopping at the Southern Hotel. He is accompanied by Pow Chee, general secretary of the association. The Chinamen are touring the United States in the interest of the new China reform movement. Leong Kai Cheu is one of the leading reformers of China. He is celebrated as an orator and has advanced ideas on political economy While in St. Louis the Chinamer, are the guests of the local branch of the association. This branch was organized in October, 1902, and includes nearly all the Chinese in St. Louis in its membership. Jen Shung is president of the local organization. A large delegation of Chinamen met the visitors at Union Station and accompanied them to the hotel. At 9 o'clock an elaborate banquet was tendered to them by Quong Sun Wah, a local merchant, at a restaurant at No. 15 South Eighth street. During the evening several hundred Chinamen from every section of the city thronged the stores and restaurants about

Hop Alley, to meet and talk with the re-formers. While here Cheu will deliver sevhis intention to remain here three days. The Chinese Empire Reform Association was founded about five years ago. At the time of its organization it was sanctioned by the Chinese Emperor, and was allowed to carry on its work unmolested until three months ago. At that time the Dowager Empress An issued an edict suppressing the association, and banished many of its officers from the country. Mr. Cheu was among those who fell under the ban. He quit China and came to the United States to take up the work here. The object of the association, he says, is to secure a constitutional form of government establish public schools and accomplish According to Mr. Cheu the association accomplished much before its suppression. Its membership was well into the millions and included all classes of citizens. Fear that its growing influence and power might cause a lessening of her authority, said Cheu, doubtless caused the Empress to sup-cheu, doubtess caused the Empress to sup-press it.

Mr. Cheu was educated in Australia and has traveled extensively since completing his education. He has studied all the forms of European government, and be-lieves reform in China can be brought about by means of public education. Just-what he hopes to accomplish in this coun-try he cannot explain.
